A complete retail system

Meet Fahrenheit Yukon, perhaps the first Point-of-Sale appliance for small and medium-sized business that comes with all of:

- Complete accounting included on-device
- Stock/inventory management included
- Industrial hardware for less downtime
- Offline compatibility

Switch to a truly integrated system. Enter your Customers and Vendors, as well as your Products, in either the POS or the accounting system, and watch the other side automatically update. Manage vendor purchases and customer sales from the same place. And best of all, the POS and the accounting system work similarly, so you don't have to endure switching back and forth between two systems that work in completely different ways.

Finally, a Point-of-Sale system you can run your entire business on, right out of the box.

Sell reliably

When your customers are ready to buy, you want to be ready to sell. Cloud business systems tie the selling ability of your business to the reliability of both your internet provider and the health of the POS vendor's servers. With Fahrenheit, we provide industrial hardware from proven brands to reduce downtime, and then we move everything possible onto your own hardware to keep your business systems up and running when your customers are ready. After all, who else cares as much about your business as you do?

Know your inventory

Know what you have in stock, what needs to be re-ordered, and even how much income you've derived from a particular product. With Yukon, your inventory levels are a click away...but since we also know that sometimes not everything gets recorded, we also make it easy to adjust your levels after manual stock-taking.

Empowering small business

As a small business, you have enough headaches. With Yukon, Fahrenheit is providing you with retail management tools like those used by your larger competitors, so that you can continue to focus on what you do best, providing quality products to your clientele.

Sell with Yukon

Retail management systems allow you to have a finger on the pulse of your business, to see at a glance what you're selling and what effect those sales have on your business health as a whole, so that you know how to make good business decisions.
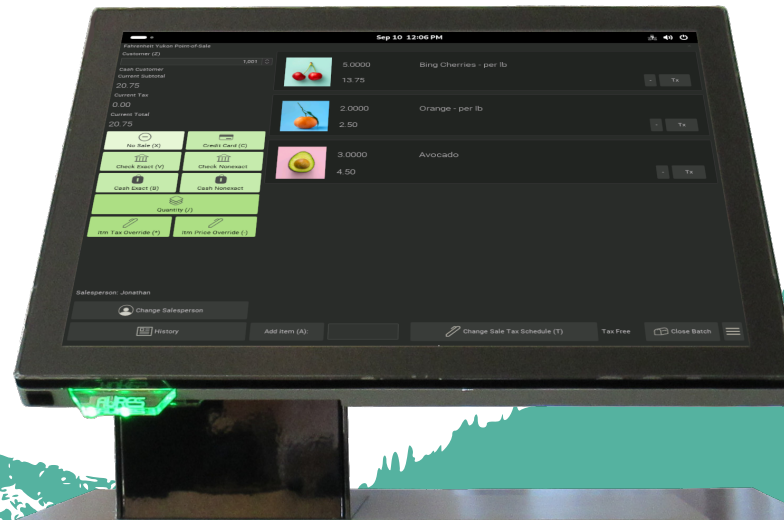

To run your business successfully, you need to make good decisions about things like when to re-order stock, and how much to order, whether to bring on new lines or discontinue existing ones, whether you can afford new equipment, or even whether to close or continue the business.

Yukon replaces the traditional cash register with a powerful retail management appliance that knows what's happening in your business, to give you that information when you need it, so that you can make the right decisions for yourself and your business.
